

Consolidation Scenario

Jerome Smith owns a small music store called Music4U. He sells different types of musical instruments, sheet music, DVD's and other music accessories. He also provides jamming sessions and tuition.

Jerome has approached you to design a website to advertise the business.

You met with Jerome recently to discuss the new website. There was agreement that the site should initially contain three (3) pages. You have recorded the following information that needs to be used in the site.

Home page:

Welcome to Music4U.

We specialise in the best musical instruments in the country and our staff know how to get the most out of them.

We also have regular jam sessions and tuition classes for all levels. Click the Jamming link to see the schedule and other information.

Every Tuesday and Wednesday 6.00pm until late. Email your preferred day and your instrument. We will set up a session with other members. You can hire session players as well as instruments at a reduced rate if you book in advance.

If you are after tuition we cater for all instruments.

Monday, Wednesday and Fridays, 1-hour sessions from 6.00pm.

Email us your preferred day and time and your instrument. We'll confirm the session and advise the price.

The business logo and some images have been provided for you in the consolidation/images folder.
